- Software Development – open source or .net

<https://apprenticeships.qa.com/our-courses/software-web-development/advanced-to-higher>

- Digital Marketing – covers all traditional marketing techniques such as email marketing campaigns, copy writing but also SEO, PPC, Google Analytics, Social Media etc

<https://apprenticeships.qa.com/our-courses/digital-marketing/advanced>

- Business Administration – great for office junior type roles, very general and encompasses elements such as reception duties, diary management etc – this works really well in other property and legal firms we work with.

<https://apprenticeships.qa.com/our-courses/business/advanced-to-higher>

- Digital Applications Support – an advanced business administration programme, the work based modules can cover elements such as accountancy software, audio software, project management software etc, and classroom training can cover marketing, basic IT fault finding and PC Passport including spreadsheets, databases, word processing etc
